STRIKE IN BODIE.

A Mine of Wonderful Richness—Gold Nuggets.

The Bodie papers contain glowing accounts of the new development in the Bodie mine. From all accounts the new bonanza is one of exceeding richness. The recent development has been made on the 433-foot level. The News editor visited the mine last Wednesday, and was shown through its lowest workings. He was permitted to examine every nook and cranny of the mine. Col. D. H. Fogus, the superintendent, did the honors of the occasion. In the east crosscut from the bottom of the shaft the visitors got their first view of the new bonanza. They saw "a beautiful gray and yellowish streak running along the side of the drift, and flecked with shining particles of pure gold. Below that a streak of decomposed rock, so thick with gold that a handful seemed to weigh a pound. Then another streak of spotted quartz and yellowish matter, fairly alive with glittering specks, and then a streak of brownish clay." The brownish streak contains nuggets of pure gold. The shining vein flattened to the east and finally went out of sight under the floor of the drift. At that point the party descended a winze along a footwall of the vein to the lowest working, 470 feet from the surface.

"Mr. Showers took a pick and led the way to where the rich vein had widened to at least two feet. Here the whole bottom of the winze seemed to blaze with the precious metal. Flecks, specks, nuggets, scales and the rich black sulphurets lay so thickly embedded in the grayish quartz as to give the idea of a solid, golden mass. With one stroke of the pick Mr. Showers brought up about five pounds of the precious rock, and laying it carefully on a paper began to select some specimens. To say that these latter were rich is but a feeble expression. Colonel Fogus gave a flat piece of decomposed rock to the writer which fairly bristled with golden crust. It was as big as his hand, and the Colonel said it would assay $140,000 to the ton. 'But there is something here which, while it doesn't look so rich, I'll show you that it has just as much gold.' So he stooped and scraped up a double handful of reddish brown stuff, mixed with clay and brown crystals. This he afterwards took to the surface, 'horned' it out, and the result was over half an ounce of the purest bullion, in the form of grains and nuggets!

But we will say no more about the marvelous wealth of this richest streak. In the bottom of the winze Colonel Fogus says he has about seven feet of vein matter, which will average clear across its face nearly $1,000 a ton. This is the widest part of the ledge, and as depth is attained it will grow even wider.

A very important feature of the newly discovered ledge is the presence, in considerable quantities, of horn silver, which seems to increase as depth is attained. This every superintendent here regards as certainly indicating the permanent character of the vein, and its probable change to a silver bearing ledge akin to that of the Comstock. If their ideas should prove to be correct, Bodie has a future before it which may yet make the bullion world stand aghast."

The description of the mine reads like a chapter from the "Arabian Nights." This new development has given a great impetus to mining in Bodie and its neighboring districts. Should the new bonanza prove as extensive as is hoped, Bodie will be the liveliest mining town on the coast this summer. The country for miles around the town of Bodie will be staked off into mining claims. There will be Bodie "lions" and "panthers" and "leopards." Each branch of the great feline family will furnish an appropriate name for the new locations, and the poor, excitable, gambling San Franciscans will rush to buy the newly created mining shares, sold at bed-rock prices "for working capital." Shafts will go down on nothing and end in nothing. But the superintendent will write the usual "encouraging letter," and the coin for a while will flow steadily into the pockets of the stock sharps. The public are always bled whenever a bonanza is shown up.

No War! No Sacrifice!
But always the sledge hammer on high prices. From the very day I opened I sold the very goods which are advertised at panic prices, for 25 per cent. less than are now offered by the noble warriors; farther more I do not offer a few articles as a bait, but I sell all my goods for less than ever heard of this side of the Rocky mountains. All who have traded with me can testify to the truth of the above, and those who have never yet traded with me I most cordially invite to be convinced.
Jest
Box, Luvr.

Talk is Cheap.

And so are fine clothing, boots, shoes and gentlemen's and boys' fine furnishing goods, if you go to the right place to get them. This is a mighty important point, for some people who assert that they sell cheap do nothing of the kind. We do not boast when we say that we defy competition in prices in anything in our line. Besides this we have only one price. We have no preferred customers. Everybody is treated alike at our establishment. Our stock is the largest and most complete ever offered in any part of this state. Everything we have is new. No old, musty, and out-of-date goods can be found on our shelves. We receive daily by rail and express the latest and best goods, which are obtained at first hand and sold at prices below those now prevailing in New York and Chicago. Let the people come and judge of our prices, and examine our stock before going into those humbugging, cheap John shops, in which they draw into the ear of the customer that they sell at cost and even below cost. Any body with common sense must know that they lie. No stereotyped goods for the fun of the thing, we make a profit on everything we sell, as every honest merchant does, and don't print foolish falsehoods in the vain hope of deceiving the public. We particularly call attention to our full stock of fancy underwear, such as is kept nowhere else in Reno. This class of goods forms one of our specialties. Remember the place, the White House, No. 19 Commercial Row.

Orders from the country promptly attended to.

THE FOOT-LIGHTS OF GOD.

A poet has written,
"Those earthly godfathers of heaven's lights,
Who give a name to every star,
Have no more power of their shining lights,
Than those that walk, and wot not what they are."
That sounds well, but is not true. When one learns to recognize the principal planets and the finest constellations in the heavens, a starry night has a far greater interest than before. No study has such a tendency to elevate and expand the mind, while exciting the imagination, as descriptive astronomy. A two-bit science primer and the use of the eyes will open up a boundless source of pleasure for our young readers. The most important planets and groups of stars are very easily recognized by the aid of a diagram or star-gazing friend. Young ladies prefer the friend, but the little book is often more trustworthy, though less attractive. Learn first to find the north star, and then the groups that revolve around it can easily be recognized. Together they make a great clock in the heavens.
Before it disappears with the changing season, get acquainted with that grand constellation of the Scorpion, now blazing in the southern sky. Just overhead, at ten o'clock in the evening, the beautiful Northern Crown can now be seen. Its principal stars are grouped in a semicircle. Not far away to the eastward Vega, in Lyra, may be picked out by its bright, white light, and by four stars in a parallelogram, or diamond-shaped group, lying very near to it. The planets shine with a steady glow, while the fixed stars all twinkle. The fixed stars are all suns, like our own. There are seldom more than two or three planets visible. Venus is the beautiful planet that may now be seen in the western sky. Look at Venus through a good opera glass and she appears a diminutive moon. Learn to watch for the Pleiades next fall, and for Orion and Sirius later on. Once the interest in the stars is awakened it, lasts through life. Constellations get to be like old friends, and give one a sense of companionship when alone under the star-lit sky. We once knew a friend to sit up until three in the morning to see the rising of Jupiter.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The brewers of the United States recently held a convention at St. Louis. The report of their proceedings and the facts and figures submitted at the convention are of general interest. Lager beer is becoming a national beverage. Brewing is now one of the great industries of this country. Ten million barrels of beer were made in the United States during the year just closed. The export of American beer increased from $25,000 in 1870 to about $150,000 in 1878. Our lager competed successfully with the German beer at the last Paris exhibition, and was awarded the grand prize for superiority. In 1875 over 2,000,000 gallons were imported, but the import of beer is now steadily diminishing, and the foreign lager consumed in the United States this year will not much exceed 500,000 gallons. Of the American product New York brews about one-third.

That ten million barrels of beer are annually consumed in the United States is a fact of much social importance. Praise is awarded to the man who makes two blades of grass grow where but one grew before. Shall the man that causes two gallons of beer to be drunk where one gallon of whiskey was drunk before also be considered a benefactor? The increasing consumption of beer, so far as it displaces spirits, is to be hailed with satisfaction. Lager is so cheap a drink that there is not much inducement for adulteration in its manufacture. Beer of good quality can be had almost everywhere. Whiskey and other spirituous liquors, on the other hand, are commonly adulterated. Most of the liquors sold in barrooms are simply poison. Intoxication is not common among beer drinkers. A glass of cool lager satisfies the thirst, while whiskey serves but to increase it. If the choice must be between beer and whiskey, by all means let us have the former. Perhaps the clear, cold water that comes gushing from the living spring, or foaming down the mountain side, might make a good drink.

When a green young editor sits wholly absorbed in penning a leader upon "Some palpable defects in the Solar system" and the ruthless compositors come treading upon his heels for copy, he is apt to lose his head. But he soon learns the ways of newspaper offices. Then when the sanctum resounds with the yell for copy, he seizes his large silver shears and slices off a yard or two of the S. F. Bulletin, (Sam Williams' selections are always good), flings it to the impatient devil, and resumes work upon "The Past and Present Condition of the Universe."

The Carson Tribune, in a lucid interval, apologizes to a neighbor for stealing an editorial note. There are several papers in this state that might do like the old man who told the minister that he blessed his pork when he salted it down in the fall so as to save saying grace before each meal. They might say something like this: "Our paper is filled up to-day by extracts from the New York Sun, Virginia Chronicle and San Francisco Bulletin."

The coming Fourth of July ought to be a happy day to Virginia City, and indeed, all over western Nevada. By that time the water from the flooded mines will be pouring out through the Sutro tunnel. All the difficulties have been surmounted, all the complications removed; all the conflicting interests identified and every advantage taken of the opportunity afforded to reduce expenses.

In the early days of the world, when men used to flap flies away with their ears, there was no money.—Reno Gazette.

And as the editor of the Gazette sits and continues the fly practice, he mournfully perceives that the financial condition has not changed much since then, either.—Virginia Chronicle.

An apology is due the Chronicle. We inadvertently tickled its ears.

Alex. Del Mar has been slandering the Comstock. He wrote to the New York Sun that it is "honey-combed and used up; Del Mar probably expects to see the Virginia people living in Reno by-and-by."

The result of the great boat race at Newcastle on Tyne to-day is given in our telegraphic specials. Great interest has been manifested in the contest. The victory was with Hanlon, the Canadian.

With four tickets in the field, the Republicans will likely win the California fall elections. The Democrats will split the Workingmen, and the H. R.'s won't count in the fight.

The San Francisco Call sees danger in the times, and says the people had never greater need to be on their guard against the Chronicle.

Congress is in no hurry to adjourn. The Democrats are disposed to fight it out on their present line of action if it takes all summer.

The weather this year has been so coquettish and changeable that even the "oldest inhabitant" has given up ransacking his memory for years in early days when meteorological phenomena eclipsed anything of a later date. Saturday was fairly sweltering, and Sunday morning was warm and pleasant. Sunday afternoon a zephyr blew up, and last night was so cold a man had to sleep under six pair of blankets and keep a hot rock to his feet to prevent his waking up in a icicle this morning.

THE GREAT BORE.

The Future of Suto and the Comstock Lode.

In a brief interview with a GAZETTE reporter yesterday morning, Adolph Suto stated that the sub-drain will be finished and ready to take the water from the mines by the first of July. The drain will convey all the water that will ever come into the lower levels of the mines. Over the drain, resting on a low trestle work, a railroad will run from the mouth to the end of the tunnel, and beside it on the bench will run the second track. The cars will be attached to a wire rope which will be endless. The power will be furnished by the water which flows out of the drain and which will drop 60 feet perpendicular through a shaft at the mouth of the tunnel. At the bottom of the shaft will be placed a turbine wheel. The water will escape through a small tunnel leading from the wheel towards the river and will flow through the town of Suto and over a fine patch of land which it will be used to irrigate. The water of the Comstock is even more valuable for irrigating purposes than river water, as it is strongly impregnated with gypsum, which is an excellent fertilizer. The Suto company owns five or six thousand acres of very fine land, lying with a beautiful slope just right for water to run on. The town itself has one of the finest sites in the state, and will be before long a place of great importance. Mr. Suto thinks that

RENO AND SUTO.

Will in ten years be the largest and best towns in the state. When all is in order a great change will take place in the vicinity of the Comstock. Instead of costing hundreds of thousands yearly to raise it to the top of the ground the water will flow out through the tunnel and instead of bleeding the purses of the stockholders, it will go to bless the land and make it rich and productive. Ores will be run down hill to mills on the Carson at an expense of five cents per ton. With facilities like these and with additional ones for utilizing the water power of the Carson for running the mills, and thus saving the enormous sums spent for wood at $11 per cord, thousands and thousands of tons of ore lying between the level of the tunnel and the top of the ground in nearly every mine on the great lode, assaying from five dollars up, can be worked at a profit, and the state of Nevada and the whole coast will feel the good effects of the new order of things.

He Wanted to Swim It.

Two tourists stopped at Reno a few days since to take a look at the surrounding country. They were just from the East, unused to our clear atmosphere, and of course ignorant of its deception in the matter of distances. The next morning after their arrival they were looking at the mountains southwest of town, when one of them turned and asked a bystander how far it was to them. The latter, seeing that his questioner had an unmistakable air of freshness about him, answered that was "a mile and a half or so." Upon this the two sight-seers announced their intention of walking to the foot of the mountains, just as a matter of exercise, to give them an appetite for their breakfast, and the Renote proposed to accompany them. So they started out and walked briskly for three or four miles, getting up then and then nearer to their destination than at the starting point. Finally the sun began to shine out warmly and one of them lagged somewhat, the guide staying behind to keep him company. The other pushed on until he came to a small ditch that crossed the road, and stopping began to pull off his clothes. His companion and the Renote coming up, the latter asked him what he meant by stripping himself. "To swim this stream," was the reply. "Swim that stream?" ejaculated Reno, "why, it ain't more'n three feet wide and a foot deep." "Well," drawled the other, "that may be so, but if your feet are as long in proportion as your miles, I think it will be a pretty good swim to the opposite bank."

A Chance for Everybody.

The prospects are that a very large crowd will be in Reno for several days during the first of July, and especially on the Fourth, and an enormous amount of trading will be done. Merchants and tradesmen will do well to advertise their goods liberally, and fasten on to their share of the trade. The GAZETTE circulates largely in Long valley and meadows, the towns in the Honey Lake country, and still further north. The columns of both the daily and weekly GAZETTE are open to all who have goods or anything else to dispose of. Give us a call.

An Advertised Delinquent.

A lady in Battle Mountain advertises in the Messenger that some young man in Reno is delinquent on his board bill, to the amount of $17, and threatens in case the aforesaid young man does not come up with his assessment, to publish his name in full. This reverses the old adage that "silence is golden." Gold is silence here. That young man had better settle.

New Goods Coming.

The Great Eastern I X L is clearing a place for the new goods. They will make a sensation when they come. Call and see them. Read their advertisement.

The Great Arabian Alliance Fraud.

Flaming posters are stuck up all over town, announcing that the "Great Arabian Alliance and Free Ballroom Show" will exhibit here to-morrow evening. The show is advertised to have twenty of the finest performers in the world and five clowns. In order to give everybody a chance to see this wonderful combination the price of admission will only be four bits a head. From what can be picked up from papers published in places where this marvelous aggregation of talent has shown, the GAZETTE infers that "the Great Arabian Alliance" is very "small potatoes" and a few in a hill. People who have been caught by the glamor of the flaming posters and induced to pay the price of admission have everywhere gone away feeling like the girl who answered an advertisement in which the information of how to make an impression was offered at the low price of 25 cents. The Nevada Transcript says there are not more than six or seven performers in all, and they are all weak sticks. The five clowns resolve themselves into one individual with a multiplicity of names, and without wit enough for one good clown. Altogether the movements of this remarkable concern are enough to condemn it, and wherever the papers have noticed it at all they have pronounced it a fraud. While the GAZETTE desires to see theatrical troupes and shows of genuine merit liberally patronized, it does not propose to have any humbug affair imposed upon and swindle people for lack of warning. If people go to the Great Arabian Alliance and Free Ballroom Show to-morrow and find themselves balked, they have no right to complain, for they go with their eyes open.

A Foul Malaria Breeding Nuisance.

There are some crying abuses in this town, some that are grievous and subjects of just complaint. In the blocks burned over by the fire there are vacant lots, piled with rubbish, cellars open for men to fall into in the dark, and offensive and disease breeding privy vaults. One of the worst nuisances in town is on a lot, belonging to Pat Hogan, situated on the east side of Sierra street, south of the Masonic building. It is a large, private vault filled with water. The odors arising from it smell to heaven; the stench germinated from it is unspeakably vile and more malarious than the vapors of the Pontine marsh. It is right beside the alley which runs from Sierra street to Virginia, and any passer by might, in the dark, step into it and drown in the horrible pit. If Mr. Hogan knows how the matter stands, it is his duty to see that the nuisance is abated. If ignorant of it, he should be informed of it, and then if he refuses to abate it, legal means should compel him to respect the health and comfort of his neighbors. The matter should be remedied at once, and the GAZETTE feels sure that Mr. Hogan will see that it is, now that his attention has been called to it.

Down With the Busted Monopolists.

T. Tucker is in town. He is a Kearneyite, a workingman, and, of course, a stump orator. He is on a mission to reconstruct the political and social system of the United States. Possibly it might strike some that regeneration was not what is most needed in America just now, but Mr. Tucker thinks differently. He held forth on the corner of Commercial Row and Virginia street Saturday night, but the GAZETTE's local was not present, owing to the pleasant evening and—well, there are attractions, even for a reporter. Mr. Tucker will preach the Kearney gospel to the benighted Renote to-night on the corner of Second and Virginia streets and will make it hot for plug hats and "lecherous bond holders." About the only coupons held in Reno are meal tickets, but that doesn't matter.

Real Estate Transfers.

The following transfers of real estate have been placed on file in the county recorder's office since May 31st:

Charles Crocker to B. F. Leete, lots 11 and 12 in block 6, Western addition—$320.

A. C. Hobart to Elmer E. Hobart, east 85 feet of lots 4, 5, 6, block 2 in Lake's addition—consideration $5.

W. R. Chamberlain to Myron C. Lake, west half of lots 6 and 7 in block 8—$300.

Charles Crocker to G. W. Small, lot 8, block 5 Western addition—$150.

George Graves to Mrs. Mary Brown, lot No. 4 block 9 Connor's survey—$300.

W. J. Marsh and wife to E. C. McKinney, lots 1, 2, and 3 block 5 Marsh addition—$4 50.

A Beautiful Piece of Wood.

St. Amund & Co. have received a beautiful bar top for their new saloon under Hammond & Wilson's theatre that is a perfect gem. It is of Spanish cedar, of a rich brown color, and has a beautiful polish almost equal to mahogany. Its polish is obtained without the aid of paint or varnish, oil being the only thing used. It is from Jacob Strahe & Co., and is as fine a piece of wood-work as one would wish to see.

Dissolution of Co-Partnership.

Notice will be seen elsewhere in the columns of the GAZETTE of the dissolution of the co-partnership heretofore existing between A. Strassburger and J. Isaacs in the drygoods business. The business will be conducted in future by A. Strassburger & Co.

Dr. Mintie's Nephreticum.

DR. MINTIE'S NEPHRETICUM works wonders. In all cases of Dropsy, Bright's Disease, Kidney, Bladder and Urinary Complaints, or Retention of Urine, these troubles are entirely cured by the Nephreticum. Female Weakness, Gravel, Diabetes, pain in the back and loin are cured when all other medicines have failed.

See what the Druggists of Portland and San Francisco say about Dr. Mintie's Nephreticum and English Dandelion Pills:

"We have sold a large amount of Dr. Mintie's medicines; the English Dandelion Pills; also the Nephreticum, and in all cases they are highly spoken of and give entire satisfaction."

John A. Childs, Druggist, Second street, Portland.

C. H. Woodward & Co., Druggists, corner First and Alder street, Portland.

Messrs. Abrams & Carroll, wholesale Druggists, Nos. 3 and 5 Front street, San Francisco, say:

"We regard Nephreticum as the best Kidney and Bladder Remedy before the public."

All Druggists keep these medicines. For all derangements of the Liver, Use Dr. Mintie's English Dandelion Pills. For Biliousness and Dyspepsia, Use Dr. Mintie's English Dandelion Pills. For Fever and Ague, Use Dr. Mintie's English Dandelion Pills. Every family should keep the English Dandelion Pills on hand.

Dr. Mintie's Remedies will not "Cure all Complaints," but will, if taken according to directions, give immediate relief and perfect a cure in all troubles for which they are recommended.

Piano Lessons.

Master Bonnie Barnett, late pupil from the Conservatory of the eminent composers and teachers, Professors Mansfield & Scott, of San Francisco, will give instructions on the piano. He has been instructed with the tuition of Professors Mansfield & Scott's own pupils, which is, certainly proof of his ability. He also adopts their method of teaching, which is thorough in the minutest details. For terms, etc., inquire at L. Barnett's drygoods store. june14

A Card.

The following goods were expected to-day, but it seems were again delayed, and must and will surely be here to-morrow: A very fine assortment of Prints, Cheviot, Bed Spreads. Also a fine line of clothing, Boots and Shoes. We assure the public that these goods will be sold at least 25 per cent cheaper than can be bought elsewhere, and we want the public to call and see for themselves.

Summons.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE Second Judicial District of the State of Nevada, in and for the county of Washoe, The State of Nevada vs. Arden Jones, Plaintiff; vs. Yousie Jones, Defendant. In an action commenced against you as defendant by Arden Jones as plaintiff in the District Court of the Second Judicial District, in and for the county of Washoe, State of Nevada, and answer the complaint therein within ten days after the service on you of this summons, (exclusive of the day of service), if served in said county, or twenty days if served out of said county, but within said district, and in all other cases forty days; or judgment by default will be taken against you according to the prayer of said complaint. The said action is brought to obtain a decree dissolving the bonds of matrimony heretofore and now existing between plaintiff and defendant. Plaintiff alleges: That plaintiff and defendant were married at Reno county, California, on or about July 25th, A. D. 1878, and ever since have been and now are husband and wife; that on or about September 9th, A. D. 1878, you, the defendant, willfully deserted and abandoned plaintiff and ever since have continued and do now so continue to desert, abandon and live apart from the plaintiff against her will, and without any just cause or excuse; that plaintiff has since that time more than a year next preceding the commencement of this action, the defendant, have failed and neglected to provide for the common necessities of life, which neglect is and was not the result of poverty on your part, which you could not have avoided by any industry; that there are no children living of the issue of said marriage and no common property. Plaintiff prays to be restored to her maiden name and for costs, all of which will more fully appear from the complaint which is on file in the office of the clerk of said Court at Reno, in said county. And you are further notified, that if you fail to appear and answer said complaint, the said plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief demanded.

In testimony whereof, I, P. B. COMSTOCK, Clerk of the District Court of the Second Judicial District, Nevada, in and for Washoe county, By S. A. MAXX, Deputy, April 28-90d
